

crystal

A solid of regular shape and, for a given compound, characteristic angles, formed when an element or compound solidifies slowly enough, as a result either of freezing from the liquid form or of precipitating out of solution, to allow the individual molecules to take up regular positions with respect to one another.

Origin: G. Krystallos, clear ice, crystal

(05 Mar 2000)

---

Previous: cryptoxanthin, cryptozoite, cryptozygous, crypts of iris, cry reflex
Next: crystal, birefringent, crystallin, crystalline, crystalline capsule

---

Published at the Dept. of Medical Oncology, University of Newcastle upon Tyne
© Copyright 1997-2003 - The CancerWEB Project. All Rights Reserved.

---

EXHIBIT C